

PENTECOST SUNDAY

“When the day of Pentecost came, they were all together in one place. Suddenly a sound like the blowing of a violent wind came from heaven and filled the whole house where they were sitting. They saw what seemed like tongues of fire that separated and came to rest on each of them. All of them were filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other tongues as the Spirit enabled them.”

Pentecost Sunday

At the Last Supper, Jesus made a promise that becomes the heart of Pentecost: "I will ask the Father, and He will give you another Advocate to be with you forever, the Spirit of truth" (cf. John 14:16–17). Pentecost is the fulfillment of that promise.

When the Holy Spirit descends upon the apostles (Acts 2), everything is changed. The frightened disciples, once locked behind closed doors, are transformed into bold witnesses of the risen Lord. Peter, who once denied Jesus, now proclaims Him with courage. Spirit does not remove their weakness, but transforms itself becomes faith, confusion becomes clarity, and silence becomes proclamation.

Pentecost reveals the Church not as a human achievement, but as the living Body of Christ animated by the Holy Spirit. The Spirit is the bond of love poured into our hearts (cf. Romans 5:5). He gathers what is scattered, heals what is broken, and unites people of every language and nation into one family of God. The wind and fire of Pentecost are signs that God is not distant but actively drawing His people into communion. This same Spirit is given to us. In Baptism and Confirmation, we receive the gift of God's own life within us. He speaks in our conscience, strengthens us in weakness, and renews our hope when we grow tired. In moments of fear, He gives courage; in moments of doubt, He reminds us of Jesus' words; in moments of division, He calls us to love.

Today, the Lord continues to renew His Church—not by human strength, but by the fire of His Spirit. We are invited to open our hearts so that what began in the Upper Room may continue in us today. Come, Holy Spirit—renew Your Church, renew our hearts, and make us bold witnesses of Christ's love in the world.
